BIG VOTE EXPECTED AT APRIL ELECTION

THE STERLING WOMEN VOTED IN LARGE NUMBERS AT RECENT ELECTION.

EXPECT FIVE THOUSAND BALLOTS

One Woman Thought Big Ballot Was to Be Used to Wrap the Small One In.

The women of Dixon township are exhibiting great interest in the coming township election, Tuesday, Apr. 7th, when they will be given a chance to vote for all the township offices and also on the two questions of public policy which will be decided then, and the fact that the "wet" or "dry" question is to be voted upon will no doubt bring out a large vote, it being estimated by some that over 5,000 votes will be cast in the township on that day.

Voted in Sterling.

A very large number of women voted in Sterling last week at a special election, showing that the women elsewhere are taking an interest in their new privilege. Some amusing stories come from Sterling, one of which is particularly funny inasmuch as its truth is vouched for, and in fact is said to have been admitted by the lady. Two ballots were given the voters, one on the question of boulevard lights, being especially large, as the entire ordinance was printed on it.

As this lady handed her ball of to the judge, he asked her if she had voted both, and she replied that she had opened the larger one part way and had seen nothing on it, and she thought it was given her to wrap her smaller ballot in.

They will occupy suites 56 and 57, considered one of the choice suites in the building because of the beautiful view it affords of the city and river.

E. H. Brewster is attorney for the Sandusky-Portland Cement company, whose big million dollar plant is located at this city. His legal victories have given him prominence as a capable, brilliant lawyer and his political and personal acquaintance extends far and wide.

FRED HEMMEN HELPS SEARCH

Woman Well Known Here Believed to Have Wandered Off During a Spell of Melancholia.

Fred Hemmen returned last evening from Waukegan where he went to see his brother, John Hemmen, and assist if possible in the search for the latter's wife, who disappeared last Tuesday afternoon after leaving home to go to a toy store to purchase some presents for her four-year-old son, whose birthday was on Wednesday.

Mrs. Hemmen is known to many Dixonites, having visited here a number of times. It is believed that while suffering from melancholia she wandered off, and although a search has been made for her, thus far the movements of the woman can not be traced later than 7:10 p. m. Tuesday, when she was seen at the Waukegan depot. Whether she purchased a ticket there is not known. Her husband has gone to Chicago to search for her, while the entire north shore suburb has assisted in the work of hunting for her.

JULIUS LLOYD DIED AT HOSPITAL SUNDAY

WELL KNOWN DIXON MAN CALLED TO THE GREAT BEYOND BY HIS MAKER.

WAS WRITER AND LECTURER

J. A. Lloyd Dies After Brief Illness—Had Been Married Only Six Weeks—Arrived Home Last Week.

Julius Lloyd, well known in Dixon and vicinity and in many other parts of the country as a writer, lecturer and humorist, died Sunday evening at 5 o'clock of uremia, at Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital. The death of Mr. Lloyd is a shock to his many friends, who supposed him to be in perfect health. He returned only a week ago from Texas where, on Feb. 11, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Lloyd, by Father Fletcher.

Julius Lloyd was born in Williamsburg, Pa., 64 years ago. He came with his parents to this vicinity when he was a small lad and has made his home here ever since. His residence is at Graves Center. He was first married in New York City and his wife died four years ago last August. To this union were born seven children. They are: Julius, Peoria; Catherine, Florida; Eli, Jerome, Charles and Theodore, Dixon, and Samuel of Amboy. His bride of a few weeks is in Dixon, coming here with him a week ago. She is grief-stricken over the tragic and abrupt ending of their honeymoon.

Julius Lloyd was a Christian gentleman, a scholar and a citizen who was extremely popular. He was a member of the Elks, No. 779, and had traveled extensively in this country and in Europe and was an authority on matters pertaining to Mammoth Cave, the famous Kentucky cavern. He was the author of "Home Made Hash," a humorous writing, and many other pieces of literature. At the time of his death he was at work on a history of Dixon, for which he had gathered some very valuable and interesting information. Mrs. Lloyd, with the aid of the notes and data he had gathered, expects to complete the work. Mr. Lloyd, because of his humorous works and his appearance, has been styled, "Mark Twain, the Second."

His illness was of brief duration. He was first taken seriously ill at Mammoth Cave, while enroute for Dixon with his bride. The funeral services will be held at Morris & Preston's chapel Thursday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. F. D. Stone officiating and with burial at Oakwood. Friends may view the remains Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock at the chapel.

ROOSEVELT'S PARTY MEETS WITH MISHAP

MESSAGE SAYS THEY LOST ALL EQUIPMENT IN RAPIDS OF A SOUTH AMERICAN RIVER.

(By the Associated Press)

New York, Mch. 23—Although the family and friends are anxiously he accident in which Col. Roosevelt and his party lost their entire equipment in the rapids of a Brazilian river, they feel no concern for his safety. A message dated Santa Rem, Brazil and signed by Anthony Fialia, a member of the party, reads: "We lost everything in the rapids. Telephone my wife of my safety."

The accident probably occurred in an unknown river which Theodore Roosevelt Jr. says his father, in a letter to him, called Rio Duivata or the "River of Doubt." In a message to friends in January the former president said he expected to explore this river.

TIME FOR FILING OF PETITIONS EXPIRES

TWO QUESTIONS OF PUBLIC POLICY WILL APPEAR ON BALLOT BESIDE CANDIDATES.

QUESTION SOCIALIST PETITION

Two Tickets in Field, Socialist and Petition Ticket—Poll Tax and Local Option Are Up.

The time for filing nomination petitions for the annual town election to be held Tuesday, April 7, expired at midnight Saturday and today Town Clerk Palmer prepared the official ballot to be voted at the election. In addition to the selection of men to fill the various offices voters of Dixon township, including the women, will be called upon to vote on two questions of public policy. "Shall Dixon township become local option territory?" "Shall the poll tax be abolished in Dixon township?"

Two Tickets. There will be two tickets in the field for the township offices, the socialists having filed a complete ticket while the other will be known as the petition ticket. The candidates for the various offices on the petition ticket are:

For Assistant Supervisor: Luther Burket
For Assessor: J. A. Whitish
For Town Clerk: F. D. Palmer
For Commissioner of Highways: Charles Russell
For Tax Collector: W. H. Lenox
For Constable (to fill vacancy): Henry Garnett
Henry Morey

Socialist Ticket

The socialist ticket, as filed following a recent caucus of the party representatives is:

For Assistant Supervisor: Edward Beckwith
For Assessor: E. H. Webster
For Town Clerk: Albert Ruggles
For Road Commissioner: H. H. Franks
For Tax Collector: Arvid Ledine.

Question Socialists.

Question has been raised as to the legality of the nomination of the socialist ticket, inasmuch as the nomination of Mr. Franks is for the office of "Road Commissioner," an office which technically does not exist. The office is referred to in the statutes as "Commissioner of Highways," and whether Mr. Franks' nomination is legal is a subject that is now being discussed. Further, there are those who maintain that because Mr. Franks' nomination is made on the same certificate as the rest of the socialist ticket, the entire ticket may be illegal.

AGREE ON DISSOLUTION

Negotiations Between New Haven and U. S. End.

Massachusetts Will Be Called Upon to Remove Prohibition on Stock Selling.

Washington, March 23.—The department of justice and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad announced they had reached a complete arrangement for a dissolution of the New Haven.

The announcement was made in the following terms:

"The attorney general has indicated to the representatives of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad the arrangements which he thinks would result in bringing the affairs of that company into harmony with law. The representatives of the railroad are willing to accept the requirements indicated and to endeavor to put them into effect without delay if approved by the stockholders in a meeting to be called at once.

"The indicated arrangement stated in general terms follows in part:

"The Boston Railroad Holding company is a Massachusetts corporation holding a majority of the stock of the Boston & Maine railroad, and 90 per cent of the former stock in turn is owned by the New Haven railroad. The charter of the holding company prohibits it from disposing of the Boston & Maine stock. The legislature of Massachusetts will be asked to remove this prohibition, and if this is done the stock of the holding company will be transferred at once to five trustees, and after arrangements have been made to protect the minority stock of the holding company they shall sell the Boston & Maine stock prior to January 1, 1917.

"The stocks of the companies which control the Connecticut and Rhode Island trolleys will be placed in the hands of trustees—five for each state—and shall be sold within five years from July 1, 1914.

"The minority stock of the Eastern Steamship corporation, now held by the New Haven railroad, shall be sold within three years from July 1, 1914, and in the meantime shall be deprived of voting power.

"This statement has the approval of both the attorney general and the representatives of the railroad."

On Feb. 25th said committee visited the DeKalb county farm which comprises 220 acres of good land, part of which is managed by the Agriculturist W C Eckart as an experiment station.
The farm has not been self supporting.
The cost of the new building fully equipped will be $70,000.
The contract price for the building alone was $56,000.
The plans and specifications were presented to us and we will file them with the county clerk.
This building is absolutely fireproof, being constructed of brick and cement, and comprises 104 rooms.
The old building which DeKalb considered no longer fit for use is very similar to our Lee county home. Therefore as this is the final meeting for the present committee, we would recommend to the new committee, when appointed, to take the necessary steps to bring the matter before the voters at the fall election.
All of which is submitted.

To the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Illinois:
Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Lee County, Illinois, that Whereas, the crossing of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, with the public highway near to or upon the line between the towns of Nelson and South Dixon in said county, being the crossing just west of the City of Dixon, known as the "McRobert's" crossing, is highly dangerous to the safety of the public; that many lives have been lost at said crossing by being struck by trains of said Railway Company, and that said crossing in its present condition and situation is a menace to the safety of life and limb of the public, and that necessity now exists for the changing of said crossing so as to make same safer for public use.

Be it therefore resolved by said board of Supervisors, that the Public Utilities Commission of Illinois, are hereby requested to use their offices and efforts to secure a betterment of conditions at said crossing, to take such steps as may be necessary to dequire said railway company to render said crossing safer for the public use and travel, and that the county clerk transmit a copy of this resolution to the said Public Utilities Commission.

Nachstuck in F Major....Schumann
Grillen.....Schumann
Nocturne in F Sharp Major...Chopin
Grand Valse Opus 42.....Chopin
Hungarian Rhapsody.....Liszt
Miss Strong played as encores "The Andante" and "Minuet" from Greig's Sonata in E minor.

The entire program was a rare treat and much pleasure was derived from Mrs. Powell's beautiful interpretation of the spirit of the compositions as well as from Miss Strong's talented rendition of the same.

A social hour followed the program during which the hostess served light refreshments and at the conclusion of the afternoon all of the guests felt it had been one of enjoyment and entertainment.

Special Numbers.

Mrs. Herbert Harms and Robert Anderson rendered a duet at the Sunday morning service at the Methodist church. There was also a number by the male quartet. Both were greatly enjoyed.

MADE THE WORLD BRIGHTER

Music Lovers Everywhere Acknowledge the Debt They Owe Felix Mendelssohn.

What musician does not love the name of Felix Mendelssohn? Those fortunate enough to hear symphonies and oratorios have revelled in the beauties of his greater works such as The Scotch Symphony, "A Calm Sea and Prosperous Voyage," the Fingal's Cave, and other overtures, St. Paul and the Elijah, which is so dramatic, it has lately been given with stage settings. The music to Midsummer Night's Dream makes Shakespeare's fairy comedy even more enjoyable than before. We realize more fully the lightsome grace of tiny elves, the merry jests of Puck, and above all, the happy union of Oberon and Titania. Their Wedding March voices the note of joy at how many a nuptial gathering, from those held in stately cathedrals with crowned heads attending, to those taking place in some remote village chapel where simple villagers form the bridal procession.

Many a woman's chafed spirit finds relief in playing those gems for the piano called Songs Without Words. Mendelssohn's father, having embraced Christianity, desired Felix to add his mother's name Bartholdy to his own decidedly Jewish appellation. The full signature, Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy appears after some compositions, but Mendelssohn, the musician, belongs neither to Judaism nor to Christianity, but to the whole happy world of music lovers.

SHRINE TO BRING BUFFALO

Ancient Indian Ceremonial in Times of Drought and Famine Now in Philadelphia.

No longer fulfilling its ancient purpose of charm to provide large buffalo herds for the Indian of the plains, there is an exhibition at the University of Pennsylvania museum a sacred shrine of the Hidatsa Indians, which has been added to the Heye collection of American ethnological objects. It is believed to be the only shrine of its nature ever erected by the Indians.

The shrine was set up in a large earthen-covered hut near the line between Montana and the Dakotas. It consists of four posts stuck into the ground, on which rest two shelves. On the lower shelf is a very ancient buffalo skull resting in a bed of leaves from the pennyroyal plant. On the upper shelf are two human skulls painted red.

It was the custom of the natives to make gifts to the shrine whenever they wanted the gods to answer a prayer.—Philadelphia Dispatch to the New York Times

CHARLES COMISKEY.

It was due to Comiskey that the world's baseball tour was undertaken and to him must be given most of the credit for the spread of American baseball gospel in the countries the teams visited.

In Gwallor City.

The state of Gwallor, in central India, is one of the wealthiest and most progressive districts in the great eastern empire. Gwallor City, the state capital, has fine public buildings and parks. The maharaja's palace is larger and more ornate than the official residence of the president of the United States. The furnishings are magnificent. At official banquets a most ingenious American electrical device of silver is used for passing around the after-dinner coffee, cordials and cigars. This is in the form of a miniature locomotive and train of cars, which, operating from an electric battery and running over a diminutive track laid along the table, is so constructed that it automatically stops before each guest.

Method of Spearfishing.

In spite of the march of civilization, there remains much that is still primitive in Sicily, and a curious sight at Palermo is to see the fishermen spearfishing in the harbor by the aid of glass-bottomed buckets (says the Wide World Magazine). There are many corners of the world where fish are speared, but perhaps the use of the glass-bottomed bucket in this connection is to be seen only at Palermo. The fishermen lean far over the side of their boats, and hold the bucket on the water with one hand, poking their heads into it as if engaged in the Hallo-e-n game of ducking for apples. They hold a spear poised in the free hand, and thus await the arrival of their victims, who are sighted through the glass bottom of the bucket, which acts as a kind of telescope.

DEMENTTOWN

Before you forget it, wouldn't it be a good idea to return your neighbor's lawn mower.

Dan Blackburn, accommodating taxi driver is the most absent minded man in town, according to the reports of his friends, who say that late on Thursday night—it was after midnight—Dan advised a friend against eating mince pie because it was Friday, and within three minutes had ordered a cold roast beef sandwich.

James Reynolds imparts the happy information that Red Curran has recovered entirely from his recent illness and is again on the job nights in Sterling. Which of course brings happiness also to the hearts of several of Sterling's fair ones.

Warning.

The pedestrians of Dixon are given fair warning that with the first day of Spring Senator Jensen and Herr Witzleb have gotten out their automobiles and that Will Ford has also purchased one of these devil wagons. How glad we are that the iron steps have been left sticking in the telephone poles down town.

Goose Hollow Letter

Hank Tumms calculates that the Podunk Leader has the best idiots in this county. Last Friday he sez he read one in it that was exactly like one the New York Herald had the Sunday before.

St Perkins sez the country needs a lot of good fertilizer more'n it needs tariff reform.

Eph Huggins, our accommodating P. M. and government official, desires us to state that he has only a few two ct. stamps left. Those desiring two ct. stamps should purchase at once.

Mel Simpson dropped into the corner grocery the other day and absent minded sat down on a roll of barbed wire. He sez he will trade somewhere else hereafter.

Bill Smiley got his fingers burnt by picking up a hot horseshoe yesterday. He didn't know it was hot and picked it up to satisfy his curiosity, and as soon as his curiosity was satisfied he set it right down in the same place.

SERVICES WELL ATTENDED.

The congregations of the Christian and Baptist church joined in a union service last evening at the Christian church which crowded the edifice to the doors.

Revs. Fisher and Bradshaw delivered addresses and the full chorus choir sang. There will be another union meeting at the Christian church next Sunday evening.

wrapped in foil as soon as made, thus keeping fresh until smoked. A fresh cigar made of good tobacco is the ideal smoke. The old, well cured tobaccos used in the Single Binder are so rich in quality that many who formerly smoked 10c cigars now smoke LEWIS' SINGLE BINDER straight 5c. In fact, Lewis' Single Binder does taste like a good 10c cigar. The Lewis' Single Binder costs the dealer some more than other 5c cigars, but the higher price enables this factory to use extra quality tobacco, thus giving the consumer a better smoke than is possible in big profit cigars.

Tell the dealer you want LEWIS' Single Binder.

A mild, satisfying smoke. Our package not only insures fresh cigars for the smoker, but makes a most convenient package for the pocket or to carry when traveling.

"IN TIME OF PEACE," ETCETERA.

The Chicago Tribune is putting on a campaign for the education of its readers to the true army and navy situation in the United States, which they declare to be grave. We believe there is some logic in their argument, for a big and thoroughly organized army and navy is a good preventive of war. It is to be hoped that this world will never again see and feel the agonies of a great international conflict, but it is not at all sure that civilization has reached that high plane, and if there is any possibility that this republic may become plunged into mortal combat with Japan or any of the great powers of Europe, it is well to be prepared, especially when that preparedness may be the means of warding off such a calamity.

War comes quickly sometimes, and at present this nation would be many months or even years getting a complete and efficient organization into the field and onto the seas. We must not depend too much on our generally conceded American valor.

It is declared by experts that the Japs could easily seize California right now and overrun and occupy the Pacific slope for many months before we could muster sufficient forces to drive them out, and what ruin they could accomplish in the meantime! The democratic policy of cutting down naval equipment, etc., might create great havoc if the possible should come to pass.

REMOVING "MOOSE HORNS."

C. H. Thompson of Spring Valley, Minn., writes to the editor of the Tribune under date of March 14th asking for a prescription for the removal of "moose horns" from Progressive statesmen of his state who he declares persist in wearing them long after the common people have shed theirs. He says that the common people of Minnesota who possess or have retained their senses have shed their "moose horns" long ago, and that the state is full of shed horns, but that the Progressive leaders of Minnesota still wear them and are standing on their hind legs and bellowing as they did in 1912. He predicts another victory for the Democrats unless conditions change.

BE DIFFERENT, ANYWAY.

Louis Pitcher says that the Lincoln highway signs would have to be as big as the new bank building to get all the things on them that we have suggested, so we humbly acknowledge the correction and propose that he get the Mayor's permission to substitute the message: "DIXON HAS NO CITY GARBAGE REMOVAL SYSTEM."

We dare to prophesy that not another city along the transcontinental route will have such an advertisement and if we can't be anything else we can be distinctive.

PAULISTS FOUNDED IN AMERICA.

The Paulists, whose famous Chicago choir delighted Dixon music lovers Saturday, are a distinctive American religious organization. Paulists is a name given to the members of the Institute of Missionary Priests of St. Paul the Apostle. They were founded in New York City in 1858 by four Episcopal ministers and another man, one of whom was the Rev. I. T. Hecker. They had the sanction of the Pope (Pius Ninth). The work of the congregation is parochial duty, giving mission, education of their novices and literary work. They issue a monthly magazine.

LIFE'S LITTLE COMPENSATIONS.

John Bull has, beside the henpecking from the militant feminine side of his household, an upheaval in Ireland. The Royalists of France threaten the life of that republic. The complacency of Uncle Sam is being irritated by neighbors to the south of us, and Dixon has the garbage question. But still this vale of tears holds its compensations. We will soon get a chance to catch up on our coal bills.

The Good Appetite

By WALT MASON

If man enjoys his daily vittles, he is a happy nibs; he need not care if Fortune whittles a stick to prod his ribs. In times of stress and grim disaster, if appetite survives, then men just throw in steaks the faster, and pies in blocks of five. No woes or troubles can kermummix the men who like to eat, who are equipped with modern stomachs that simply can't be beat. Should Fate, that grim and grisly spinner of grief, camp on my trail, if I can have a good square dinner, her buffets won't avail. The men who bow before disaster, who tremble and repeat, to whom woe sticketh like a plaster, are those who do not eat. Napoleon, to good fighters partial, once combed his scanty wool, and said, "Men can't be brave and martial unless their tanks are full."

Let me but eat a roasted turkey, well stuffed, in farmhouse style, and, though the outlook's dark and murky, I still shall sing and smile. I may be victim of abuses, and woes may come in troops, but let me eat a pair of geese, and I don't care three whoops.

BOBBY SHAFTO'S RETURN

BY ELLA M. BANGS.

Footsore and hungry the boy plodded steadily on. His worldly possessions contained in a bundle swinging from a stout stick, were shifted now and then from one shoulder to the other. The sun was hot, and pushing back the worn cap, the boy wiped his forehead and face where tan and freckles showed that this was not his first day of exposure to sun and wind. Presently the roofs of a building came into view, and as he approached nearer, the building proved to be a fine old colonial mansion.

Passing the pillared portico, he was about to go around to a side entrance, when a swinging hammock caught his sight, and going nearer he spoke. "Please can I get a drink of water here?"

The figure in the hammock suddenly raised itself showing a girl a little younger than himself, a girl in a white dress and pink ribbons, with sunshiny hair and deep blue eyes, which widened as, instead of answering his inquiry she demanded: "Are you a tramp?"

"Not exactly, but I hadn't the money to ride, so I just had to walk."

The fair face flushed, then she hurried away, returning a little later with a glass and pitcher of water, as well as a generous piece of custard pie.

"Do you like this kind?" she asked. He looked at the pie. "You bet," was the prompt answer, and he proceeded to dispose of it.

"I'm obliged to you," acknowledged the boy as soon as speech seemed possible. He had thrown himself on the ground, but presently he started up. "Well, I must be starting on."

"Where to?"

"New York?" Why that's miles and miles away.

"I know, but I'll get there some time. And, I say, I thank you for the pie and the drink, and—what's your name?"

"My name's Evelyn Ware."

"Well, then good-by Evelyn Ware."

As he started toward the street he turned to say, "Some day I'll come back and marry you, Evelyn Ware."

"Oh, will you?" she returned scornfully. Then with a mocking smile she sang, Bobby Shafto's gone to sea, Silver buckles on his knee, He'll come back and marry me, Pretty Bobby Shafto.

His destination was reached in time, and during the year that followed the boy picked up barely enough to maintain a clothed and fed existence. It came about, however, that within his second year he found himself occupying a menial position in the office of one of the daily papers. Six months later he took something to the editor. The man read it, and looking up at the boy, asked, "Where did you get this?"

"I wrote it. Is it good?"

A. L. GEISENHEIMER & CO.

The man gave a low whistle. "You wrote it? Well, keep on, my boy."

In time a story under his name appeared in one of the magazines. Others followed, and then came the inevitable writing of a novel. This, after one or two rejections, was published. His work as reporter was given up, and another novel produced which met with so cordial a reception by the public as to place "The Highway of Fate" on the list of the year's best sellers.

About this time he was invited to make one of a house party given by a society leader at her country place. A half hour after his arrival at Summer Acres, Wilfred, standing near an open window in his room, heard voices below on the piazza.

"Who do you think is to be a guest here?" asked a feminine voice.

"I've no idea," another voice equally feminine, but more musical, returned. "Has Mrs. Grafton inveigled a star of the first magnitude?"

"Something like it," was the response, "for this is no less a personage than Wilfred Hunter, the author."

"Possible? So we will all soon be on the Highway of Fate, if not already there," laughed the other.

"Yes, and if he is as good looking as his picture, look out for your heart, Evelyn, for I suppose you have one."

"Wilfred started. Evelyn? That name belonged to the little golden-haired fairy of his humble youth. Was this she?"

A little later his query was answered when he was presented to Miss Evelyn Ware.

One day while they were walking together, the young man asked:

"Would you think me insufferably egotistical, Miss Ware, if I told you the outline of a little story I have in mind?"

"On the contrary, Mr. Hunter, I should feel deeply flattered," was the response.

Accordingly the man began. He described himself as he had been sixteen years ago, poor, unknown and alone.

"Are you—Bobby Shafto?"

"Yes," as his hand closed over hers, "and I have come back—as I said I would."

"I wrote it. Is it good?"

MOB STORMS GOTHAM

1,000 Jobless Parade Under Black Banner in New York.

Woman of Wealth in Auto, in Way of Line, Is Spat Upon by Female Walker.

New York, March 23.—One thousand men and women—anarchists, the unemployed and members of the Industrial Workers of the World—marched under a silken black banner bearing in blood-red letters the inscription, "Demolition," up Fifth avenue for miles without waiting to ask of the city authorities the permit required by ordinance.

Clouds obscured the sun and made the noted thoroughfare a canyon of gloom as the "army," led by Alexander Berkman, swept northward unrestrained. It was not a symmetrical line of formation, but a boisterous, noisy crowd that jostled fashionably clad women and men from the sidewalks. There was no enforcing traffic rules. One woman in an automobile who got in the way was spat upon by a woman in the parade.

This demonstration, regarded as one of the most extraordinary in the city's history, was subsequent to a mass meeting in the streets near Union square, where the throng had been denied the right to gather. The wealth of the nation was the product of their toil, those gathered were told by the speakers, and they should march forth into Fifth avenue and upon church and restaurant and hotel and shop and take what was theirs. Emma Goldman, Carlo Tresca and Alexander Berkman were some of those who exhorted the restless crowd.

At One Hundred and Seventh street the parade turned east and stopped at the doors of the Francisco Ferrar association. There a dozen policemen were waiting, but the crowd licemmen were waiting, but the crowd was orderly and no arrests were made. Speakers announced that those of the unemployed who were homeless and hungry would be fed and sheltered for the night. Five squads of 50 men each entered the building and were supplied with tobacco as well as food. Others of the unemployed were cared for in the lodging houses.

WILSON WINS SYMPATHY

Talk on Restrictions Imposed on Presidents Draws Many Compliments.

Washington, March 23.—Nothing said or done by Woodrow Wilson since he became president of the United States a little more than a year ago has caused as much comment in Washington as his "heart to heart" talk to members of the National Press club on the occasion of the club's house warming.

Everywhere in the capital the president's half serious, half humorous reference to the artificial restrictions that prevent him from going about like an ordinary human being have been received in a sympathetic spirit.

After discussing the president's talk for a couple of days a good man Washingtonians are wondering if the remedy does not lie in the president's own hands. The specification to support the theory is that by his frequent appearance on the streets and in public places the president will become such a familiar sight to Washingtonians that after awhile he will find himself freed from danger of annoying attentions.

ASQUITH DENIES ARMED COERCION

Premier Says That Troop Movement Was Taken to Protect Government Stores.

HOPES TO AVOID GLASH

More British Army Officers Reported Ready to Resign Their Commissions—King Seeks to Solve Problem.

London, March 23.—General Gough's brother has also resigned his commission. He is Gen. J. E. Gough, chief of staff in the Aldershot command. General Gough and his brother officers, including Colonel Bogg from Curragh, arrived here and visited the war office. Colonel Hogg subsequently took lunch at the admiralty house with Winston Churchill, who when he was in the army served in Colonel Bogg's regiment.

Dreaded Day Is Peaceful.

London, March 23.—The dreaded Sunday passed without the slightest disturbance of order in Belfast or in Ulster. But the gravity of the crisis is fully indicated by the fact that the king canceled his intended week-end visit to the Earl and Countess of Derby at Liverpool. As a result of a meeting of the party leaders, Andrew Bonar Law will move the adjournment of the house with a view to securing a discussion of the whole situation.

The conference between King George, Premier Asquith and the other ministers with reference to the Ulster situation continued all day.

Asquith Makes Statement.

Premier Asquith has authorized the Times to make the following statement in his behalf, in order to remove three misapprehensions in the public mind as to the government's actions and intentions:

He says, "the recent movement of troops in Ireland was of a purely precautionary character, and it is obvious that the policy of disposing small bodies of troops in Ulster would be perfectly useless from a strategic viewpoint. The intention was simply the protection of the arms and ammunition depots from a possible raid. No further movements of troops is contemplated."

"The rumor that warrants had been issued for the arrest of the Ulster leaders had the slightest foundation. The government never has taken and does not contemplate any such step."

"But," continues the Times, "it is understood that the minister's view is that there has been quite an honest misunderstanding concerning the nature of the duties the officers have been asked to perform, and that the intention is to reinstate them and attribute the whole business to a blunder."

Many Officers Resign.

Belfast, March 23.—The defection of the army officers is the cause of great jubilation in Ulster and among the officials of the provisional government, who are keeping in close touch with events at Curragh and other military depots in Ireland through secret correspondence.

A letter which the provisional authorities have received from an officer at the Curragh station, stated that more than one hundred officers had resigned, including all the cavalry officers. Gen. Sir Arthur Paget, commanding the troops in Ireland, had them paraded and told them, according to the letter, that he had "an express order and request from the king himself to ask every officer to go as ordered, that they might never be called upon to fight and that if they refused to go there might be a mutiny in the army, which would mean a revolution in England, and in six months there would be no king and no army."

Appeal on Deaf Ears.

Despite this appeal all officers refused to reconsider their resignation. A general officer of high standing in the regular army was offered the post of commander-in-chief of the force which is to operate against the Ulster volunteers.

When he declined the offer the war office informed him that his refusal meant the severance of his connection with the army. He persisted and the authorities offered the post to another officer, said to be General Friend, now commanding at Belfast, who accepted. A denial was issued of the reported mutiny of the Dorsetshire regiment. The military administration will begin the issuance today of the drab-colored field uniforms to the special service corps of 4,000 men, which has been especially organized, chiefly of old soldiers and sharpshooters, as a mobile striking force for the first attack in event of hostilities.

Ulster awaits with curiosity the next move of the war office and other authorities, pending which the situation remains unchanged. Absolute order prevails in the city.

Several U. S. Express Offices Close.

Waukegan, Ill., March 23.—Several small commissioned offices of the United States Express company have already closed, and others in Lake county will soon close as a result of the decision to suspend operation. The offices at Lake Forest, Highland Park, Libertyville and Area have been discontinued. The Waukegan and North Chicago offices will be open until further notice.

WORLD'S LARGEST IRON MINE

Enormous Supply of Rich Ore Is Located at Kiruna, Lapland.

The richest and probably the largest iron ore mine in the world is located at Kiruna, Lapland, in latitude 68½ degrees north, which is about the same as the northernmost boundary of Alaska. The climate is somewhat milder than in Alaska, and these mines are worked the year around. About 1,600 men are employed and the equipment is all of the most modern machinery obtainable. Machine tools for the repair shop, air compressors, and rock drills, and several of the largest steam and electric shovels are of American make. The plant is at present operated by steam power, the coal supply coming from England and Spitzbergen, but the electrification of the mines is in progress, and this power will be used exclusively as soon as the new power plant of the state of Sweden, now under construction at Porjus Falls, is completed. The transmission line is completed and it is expected that the power station will be ready to deliver current early in 1914. One hundred and fifty thousand horsepower will be the capacity of this station, and it will be transmitted over a distance of 150 miles. The state railway between Kiruna and Narvik is being electrified and will be operated from this station. The ore is shipped from Kiruna to Narvik on the Norwegian coast by rail, and from there by water to Germany, a small percentage finding its way to other countries.

BOOSTED UP THE PRICE

When You Come to Think of It the Article Was Worth the Increased Amount.

Hot and stuffy was the auction room, and packed, too—yes, even packed to its utmost capacity.

Suddenly through the crowd pressed a large, important-looking person and held converse with the auctioneer—converse, low, deep and awe-inspiring.

Then up spake the auctioneer to the multitude assembled: "Gentlemen," he said, "I am informed that a pocketbook has been lost in this hall tonight containing £200 in bank notes."

A great hush fell upon the assembly. "Yes," continued the custodian of the hammer, "and, owing to other valuable documents it contains, the gentleman will offer £50 to anyone who returns it, while no questions will be asked."

Again a silence, deep and unbroken. Then a fellow at the rear of the hall spoke up:

"I bid £51," he said.—Answers.

GEN. VILLA'S ARMY HEMS IN TORREON

Federal Outposts Driven Behind Main Fortifications—Rebels Occupy Small Towns.

HUERTA'S MEN ARE ROUTED

Washington Government Still Holds to Its Policy—Believes Impending Battle Will Settle Prestige.

Bernajillo, Durango, Mex., March 23.—Francisco Villa, the rebel chief, left here for the south, after having cleared the way for a direct attack on Torreon by his success on Saturday in establishing a base here and driving in the federal advance guards from Mapimi, Tlahualilo, Sacramento, Noe, Brittingham Junction and smaller points in the environs of the Huerta stronghold.

The zigzag front of khaki-clad rebels, including the Indians who offered their services and those of their bows and arrows at Chihuahua a month ago, who have been given modern uniforms and arms, was nearest the enemy at Brittingham Junction, only seven miles north of Torreon.

Doubts on Resistance.

Before leaving for the front General Villa said he doubted whether the federals would make further resistance until his assault on their main position takes place, although there were rumors that the enemy would make a show of resistance at Gomez Palacio, a suburb of Torreon, reached by street car, and noted for its big railroad shops.

The first important move of the week just passed took place when General Villa having appeared suddenly from Chihuahua, set his troops in motion Friday morning from Yermo, about one hundred miles north of Torreon.

Federal Body Retreats.

Fifteen miles north of this city he came upon a strong advance column of the federals, who are believed to have been under orders to retreat upon appearance of the enemy. The appearance of the rebels was so sudden, however, that the retreat became almost a rout.

The federals, like the rebels, were mounted, and the encounter became a sort of steep chase, with the pursuers, smothered in the dust kicked up by their mounts, firing blindly from the saddle, not in the least impeded by the scattered bullets which the federals sometimes turned to fire.

The fight continued at a gallop right into the streets of this little city, and here it was that most of the federal losses occurred. The bodies of 108 were picked up by Villa's men. The rebel loss was practically nothing.

At a great irrigation ditch shortly after leaving Bernajillo, Benavides came upon a federal force which he estimated to number 400. An hour's engagement ensued, as a result of which the rebel commander reported to General Villa the rout of the enemy, leaving 90 dead on the field. His own loss he reported as three killed and seven wounded.

Meanwhile General Herrera occupied Santa Clara and sent a force to bridge the ditch where Benavides had vanquished opposition.

U. S. Holds to Policy.

Washington, March 23.—Although full reports of the conference at Vera Cruz between John Lind and Senor Portillo y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs in the Huerta cabinet, have been received here, the disposition of the American government is to make no changes in its policy toward Mexico or express itself on any of the new proposals reported to have been made until after the battle of Torreon is fought.

Administration officials here, while deeply interested in new parleys, do not think much can be accomplished until the battle of Torreon is over.

BOSTON JOURNAL IS SOLD

In an editorial announcement of the change Mr. Hale says:

"I regret that I cannot continue my connection with the paper and my work for the Progressive party at the same time. I have found that is impossible, however, and as between the two I choose the latter."

Longworth was defeated for re-election in 1913 by Stanley Bowdler, Democrat, of this city, the latter having the scant majority of 101 votes.

ROOSEVELT PARTY LOSE ALL IN RIVER

Members of the Expedition, However, Are Safe, According to Brief Cablegram.

WORD FROM ANTHONY FIALA

Had Agreed to Report If Accident Befell Colonel—Silence Held Reassuring—Sought Headquarters of Amazon.

Sanatrem, Brazil, via Pernambuco, St. Vincent, and the Azores, March 23.—We have lost everything in the rapids (presumably rapids of a tributary of the Amazon river). Telephone my wife of my safety.

ANTHONY FIALA.

New York, March 23.—Anthony Fiala, the well known arctic explorer and resident of Brooklyn, who sent the above cable message to the Times, is one of the members of the party of Colonel Roosevelt which plunged into the unexplored wilds of central Brazil about nine days ago, expecting to reach Manaus, the commercial metropolis of the Amazon country, about nine hundred miles from the mouth of the river.

Roosevelt is Silent. Inquiries made showed that the Roosevelt family had heard nothing yet from the colonel concerning the mishap to the expedition or his own situation. It need not be inferred from this fact that the colonel has sustained any personal injury.

On the contrary, Mr. Fiala's silence on the subject indicates that the colonel is safe, and that the loss is confined to the equipment and the archaeological and other specimens gathered by the expedition for the understanding with Mr. Fiala was that any personal injury to the colonel was to be cabled immediately and fully.

Colonel Roosevelt in a letter January 16 said that in a month or six weeks he would reach the headwaters of an unexplored river and that he expected to go down this, taking with him his son Kermit, Mr. Fiala and George K. Cherrie, a representative of the museum, besides Colonel Rondon and other Brazilian members of the party. Colonel Roosevelt did not say in this letter whether the river had a name, but Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., said that in another letter his father had called it the Rio Duivata, or "River of Doubt."

FILE PROTEST ON THOMPSON

Anti-Union Men Object to Chicagoan on Industrial Body.

Washington, March 23.—The Illinois Manufacturers' association and other organizations in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin opposing union labor have sent protests to Senator Lewis against any appropriation for the industrial commission which will include a salary for William Ormonde Thompson of Chicago, recently made solicitor of the commission. Mr. Thompson formerly was a partner of Clarence S. Darrow. The protests say he is not a non-partisan attorney, but really an advocate of every claim of the labor men. As such, the objecting parties believe his work with the commission would not be impartial and unprejudiced.

ALL CREATED WITH PURPOSE
 Wonderful Possibilities of Minute
 Seeds That Seem to Be of Such Insignificance.
 Seeds at best are little things, easily passed by; yet in the whole scheme of the universe there is hardly a created thing of more mighty importance, says a writer in the Craftsman. Primarily they are responsible for the continuance of vegetable species; within them lies the seat of life. And the seeds of the earth are multitudinous, each one having a peculiarity of form and color especially its own. One may hold in the palm of the hand seeds similar in appearance and yet so different in purpose that only the imagination can form any conception of the offspring which it is their destiny to bring forth.
 The most delicate and fairest flowers, perhaps baby's breath and love-in-a-mist, may cover a section of the garden as a result of seeds sown;
 and at the same time great oaks,
 maples, willows, pines, beeches, ashes and every other form of tree that grows, stand in the forest because of the seeds sown by the wind or dropped, like acorns, into their places. The grass forming the greenward about the home; the grain of the field giving food to the multitude, waving corn and climbing bean, are all the outcome of myriads of seeds possible to hold in the hollow of the hand.

EAT LESS AND TAKE
SALTS FOR KIDNEYSTake a glass of Salts before breakfast
if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid, which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.
 When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, a stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmaceut about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.
 This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys;
 to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.
 Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

JUST GATHERED UP AIGRETTE

Servant Girl's Explanation Probably Did Not Aid Her in Securing Desired Situation.

It was a wonderful servant girl that the employment agency had sent to Mrs. Bagson and the decoration on her hat was more wonderful still. It wasn't merely an aigrette, it was a regular museum of aigrettes. Every color of the rainbow glowed in its separate item collected into a grove, a botanical garden, a whole forest primeval of aigrettes.

"You have excellent references," said Mrs. Bagson to the young woman, "but I'm afraid you'll not suit me. You seem to be accustomed to a lavish scale of living. I couldn't afford such trimming for my hat as you have on yours. It must have cost you a lot of money."

"Oh, if that's your reason," replied the girl, "the trimming on my hat never cost me a red cent. I just gathered it up."

"Just gathered it up?" exclaimed Mrs. Bagson. "And what do you mean by that, pray?"

"Well," said the girl, "at the place I've just left they had a lot of people to dinner on Sundays—especially women—and when the dinner was served I used to go to the hall closet where the hats and wraps were. Every lady, of course, had aigrettes on her hat, and so I just used to take one single tiny little feather from each of them. They never knew the difference."

KITTY MADE A MISTAKE

By GRACE SCHWEBS.

"If any one else had done it," said the girl in white linen, "we should have thought nothing of it. Probably we should have merely sighed in an irritated way and said it was just like a woman—but, you see, Kitty is not just like a woman; she is like no one on earth but herself, and she has always been noted for brains. Not the obstreperous kind, but the more deadly and dangerous variety which are concealed under a wide eyed childlikeness that invites and does not warn."

"Many times in my life have I seen men go to their doom in their trusting masculine way after a few minutes' conversation with Kitty."

"This being the case, you can understand how ridiculous it was of Kitty to do as she did."

"We had motored to the village from the summer hotel in the Gettings' machine and were to meet in the drug store for soda water after our several shoppings were done. Kitty, trailed in last, smiling sweetly. 'I very informally dumped my packages in a car out there as I came by,' she murmured as she fell upon the chocolate soda, 'and I hope it is the right one!'"

"Ha, ha!" laughed we all. "We hope so! As if Kitty ever in her life did not know what she was doing!"

"Then we sauntered out. In front of the store by the curb was a perfectly vacant spot. At this vacuum Kitty was gazing with a blank expression. 'Where's your car?' she asked Fred Gettling."

"Over there," said Fred, nodding toward the machine a little distance away.

"You've moved it!" said Kitty, with conviction, "to upset me!"

"I haven't!" declared Fred Gettling. "That's where I left it when I came here!"

"Heavens!" Kitty moaned, wringing her hands. "Then I did put 'em in the wrong car after all!"

"We glared wildly in all directions,

"Demanded Butter and Hooks and Eyes."

but nothing was to be seen but entire proper cars going about their business.

"What was in the packages?" we shouted at Kitty.

"A pound of butter," said Kitty, miserably, "and eight new dish towels and two pounds of candy and a tin dipper and some hooks and eyes!"

"For a donation party," said Fred Gettling. "I have heard tell of a better balanced collection of things, but maybe he can use the hooks and eyes in repairing his machine, and with this hot sun the butter will be about right for oiling the machinery."

"The drug store clerk said he thought the car that had stood in front belonged to Kinkins the plumber. So we phoned his house. Mrs. Kinkins said she believed her husband was starting for the country—and we nearly fainted. Then she added that he had to stop at the garage for gasoline and then we revived. Incidentally, we found that it was a gray car."

"And mine," Fred Gettling said, with great scorn to Kitty, "is a deep maroon!"

"So we started to chase a gray car that looked as though it were headed for the country. We overhauled one and excitedly demanded butter and hooks and eyes and dish towels. Then the people in it got angry and I thought the man was going to throw his box of tools at us. So we hastened to explain, but you could tell from the way they started up their car that they didn't like us at all."

"Finally we found a garage and rolled into it so fast that we almost hit a disreputable gray, dusty car that was swallowing gasoline by the gallon. By its side stood Kinkins."

"He said he had discovered the packages and, while a trifle confused over the evidences of some one's generosity, he had been much obliged. He seemed reluctant to give them up. I think he had designs on the dish towels—they would have made such fine gasoline wipers!"

"The butter had melted into the candy, so Kitty had to throw all that away, and by that time the stores were closed, so her family didn't have any butter for dinner that night."

"And the worst of it is that Fred Gettling is so angry at her for taking that disreputable bunch of gray junk for his expensive machine that he says she can't go riding with him any more!"—Chicago Daily News.

DAILY

QUALITY OF DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Sanitary Barns, Clean Cows, Milkers and Utensils Are Among Some of Most Important Essentials.

(By L. M. DAVIS.)
Quality is the keynote of a permanent success. Though the individual dairyman may doubt this, its truth is established when the dairy business, present and future, is considered. Failure to realize what constitutes success, refusal to meet the obligation which every dairyman owes to the dairy industry, and competition are at least three conditions which have brought upon dairymen the great problem of how quality can be raised, for the place has been reached where improved conditions must prevail.

Every person who handles milk or cream knows that they are perishable products, which require special care. Failure to observe the necessary precautions in handling these products must therefore be considered as a disregard of the principles underlying quality. Were dairymen to apply themselves closely in two particulars, over ninety per cent. of the quality troubles would disappear, and this raised standard would be accompanied by a corresponding gain in net profits. Cleanliness and low temperatures are two features the abuse of which leads to low grade dairy products. A large percentage of the bad flavors in milk, cream and butter are the result of dirt, manure, hair and flies getting into milk during the milking process, and this becomes the more serious for the reason that 75 per cent. of these contaminating materials go into solution and can be removed in no way, but remain to cause the development of unfavorable fermentations, which produce bad flavors in the market production.

MILKING COWS BY MACHINES

New York Station Announces Result of Experiment Extending Over Period of Four Years.

The problem of milking by means of machines is still a long way from being solved, but we are much nearer the goal than five years ago, or even a year ago. More people are thinking about mechanical devices for lightening the work of tired hands and aching fingers than ever before.

The New York experiment station has announced the result of a milking machine experiment which covered a period of over four years. The experiments show that, including the time required to get the machines ready and to wash them after milking, cows can be milked by machine in 3.56 minutes per cow, as against seven minutes for hand milking. A higher class of help is, however, necessary to milk my machinery successfully.

DAIRY NOTES

To conduct a dairy farm at a profit we must feed good cows.

The old-fashioned tin strainer has been relegated to the scrap heap.

Aim to have the best of dairy products, and market them where quality counts.

The man with enough feed and cows coming fresh this fall has no kick coming.

If the cream is still warm after separating don't put the lid on the can down tight.

Strong brine thickened with soft soap makes a good mixture to rid cows and calves of lice.

The farmer who allows his cows to hustle for themselves on the parched pastures is making a mistake.

The sunshine is a good helper in washing milk things; but it does not pay to throw the whole job on the sun.

Hard and swollen udders may be greatly relieved by patient rubbing. If any liquid is used, let it be warm water.

The preservation of butter depends more upon the thorough removal of the buttermilk than upon the presence of salt.

MINERS THREATEN WAR

Trouble Bobs Up at Conference of Operators.

Both Sides as Far Apart as They Were at the Beginning at Meeting Held in Chicago.

Chicago, March 23. — Differences which may lead to a nation-wide strike between the coal mine operators and miners developed in the conference at the Great Northern hotel. The miners, who had demanded a six per cent increase, acceded to the demands of the operators to sign the existing agreement for another two years. The miners and operators in the conference here are from the bituminous fields of Ohio, Illinois, western Pennsylvania and Indiana.

After agreeing to sign the old agreement for another two years, a new snag was struck in the Ohio delegations. The men are paid on a mine run basis there under a state law. The operators want that changed so they may pay the men on a screen measure basis.

The representatives of the miners refused to agree to that demand and subcommittees were appointed to thrash out the Ohio difficulties. The conference will be resumed on Tuesday.

E. A. Cole, chairman of the subcommittee, said the operators and miners were as far apart now as at the beginning of the negotiations.

"We will call a strike of every coal miner in the country," William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, said, "if the negotiations here do not end in the signing of an agreement."

There are 500,000 coal miners in the United Mine Workers' organization.

Post Office Plans to Link Farm and Consumer by Mail.

Washington, March 23.—Preliminary steps were taken by the postoffice department to perfect its plan for reducing the cost of living by having the parcel post carry farm products directly to the door of the consumer. Ten cities were selected to begin the work of establishing direct connections between producer and consumer. Postmaster General Burleson having already issued an order permitting the use of crates and boxes for butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruit shipped by parcel post. Orders were sent to the postmasters at Boston, Atlanta, St. Louis, San Francisco, Baltimore, Detroit, La Crosse, Wis.; Lynn, Mass.; Rock Island, Ill., and Washington directing them "to receive the names of persons who are willing to supply farm products in retail quantities by parcel post." Printed lists of these names showing kind and quantity of commodity available will be distributed among town and city patrons.

CHINESE BRIGANDS SLAY 300

White Wolf's Band Burns Town and Plunders Residents.

Peking, March 23.—The latest exploit of the bandits headed by White Wolf was the massacre of 300 townsfolk who were resisting their entrance into an important market town close to Slang-Yangfu, province of Hupeh. Seven-tenths of the town was burned and the population ruined financially. On the occasion of the recent sacking of Kingtzokwan, province of Honan, the local troops made no effort to resist the brigands commanded by a general formerly a noted brigand chief.

wants to feel safe when he sits or lies down—doesn't want to take any chances on landing on the floor with a broken back and a broken commandment. We carry a line of chairs, sofas and bedsteads that would sustain these men if they could get on. It's partly in the material, more in the making. This line is right in both respects.
